

- 1 An introduction to Beatrix Potter's Perthshire connections, a lifelong source of inspiration.
- 2 View the Dalguise column, from Beatrix's beloved holiday home, now restored and on display.
- 3 Regular visits to the Birnam Institute were an integral part of the Potters holidays. See the visitor's book signed by the family in 1891.
- 4 Read about the "Tale of Peter Rabbit" letter, written at Eastwood on the banks of the Tay, which was the source of Beatrix's best loved story.
- 5 Browse the display cases containing an intriguing collection of items inspired by the Beatrix Potter Tales.
- 6 Discover how a friendship with local naturalist Charles McIntosh encouraged Beatrix's scientific research and meticulous illustrations.
- 7 Exit to the shop to see Charles McIntosh's original collection of mosses. Then explore the garden to search out some of Beatrix Potter's well known characters.
